Know they're safe, across any distance.

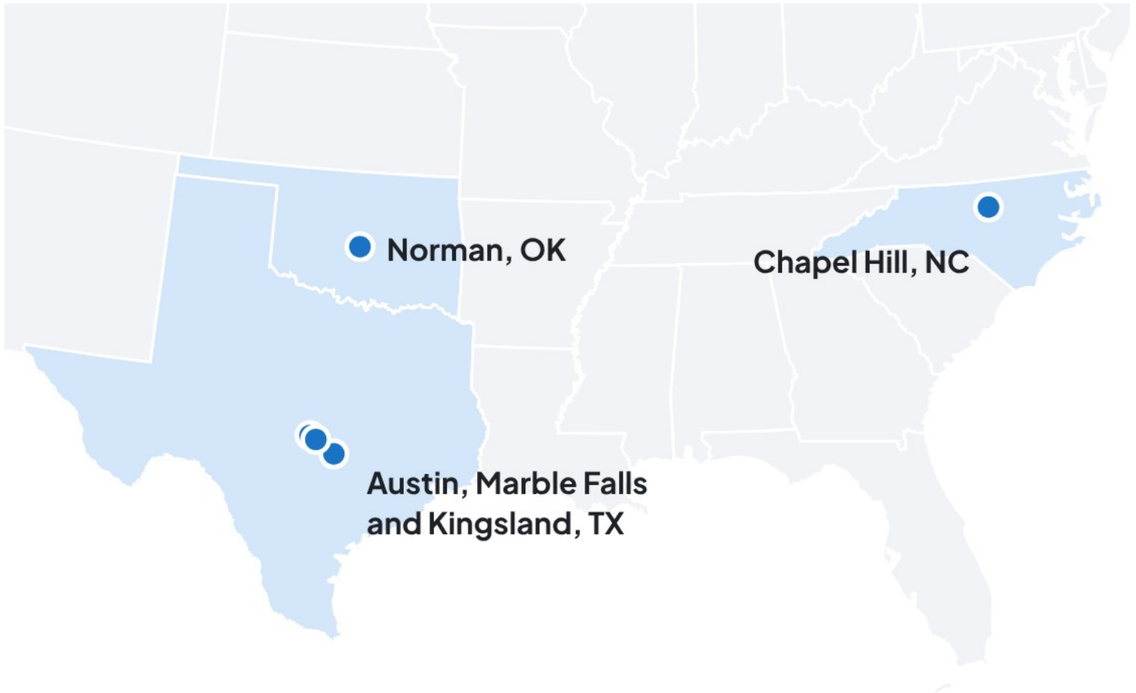

I’m GenX.

The sandwich generation.

- I’m responsible for aging parents and college students.
- My family is in 5 cities in 3 states.
- I use multiple apps for location tracking, weather, crime, spending, health and more.
- I don’t need all that.

I just need to know when to check in on them.
And when to give them their independence.

I’m not alone. There are 63 million family caregivers like me.

...so I built what we all need.

The biggest players

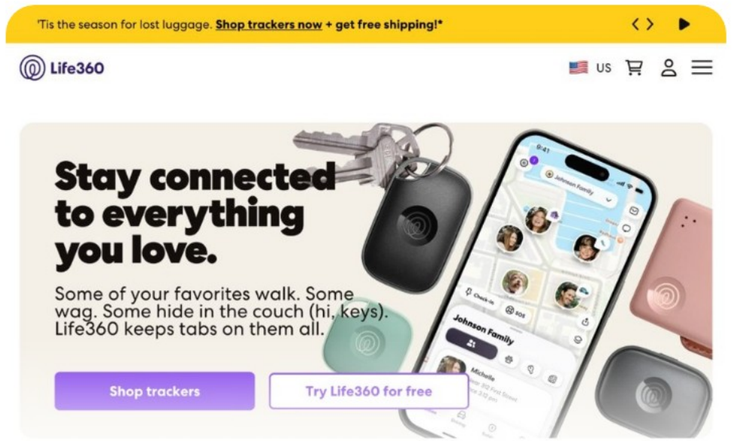

recognize the opportunity

Life360

$500M+ Revenue · 100M+ Users

Focused on GPS tracking

Calls aging parents its next big business and is hiring to build for them. Still built around a map, and funded partly by ads.

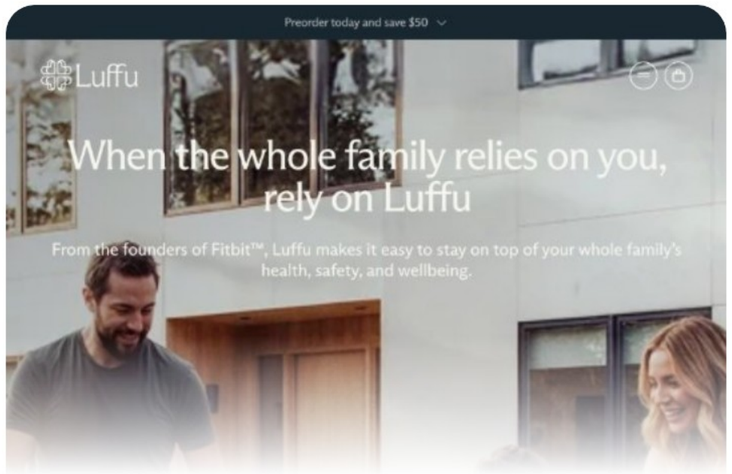

Luffu

From Fitbit's founders

Focused on health

A family health app in beta since Feb 2026. Next: a $299.99 band plus $19.99 a month, shipping early 2027.

looop

Takes a different, holistic approach to family care.

Health, fitness, spending, activity, weather, crime, and the shape of each day, all in one place.

Looop combines it into one simple answer about when to check in.

looop

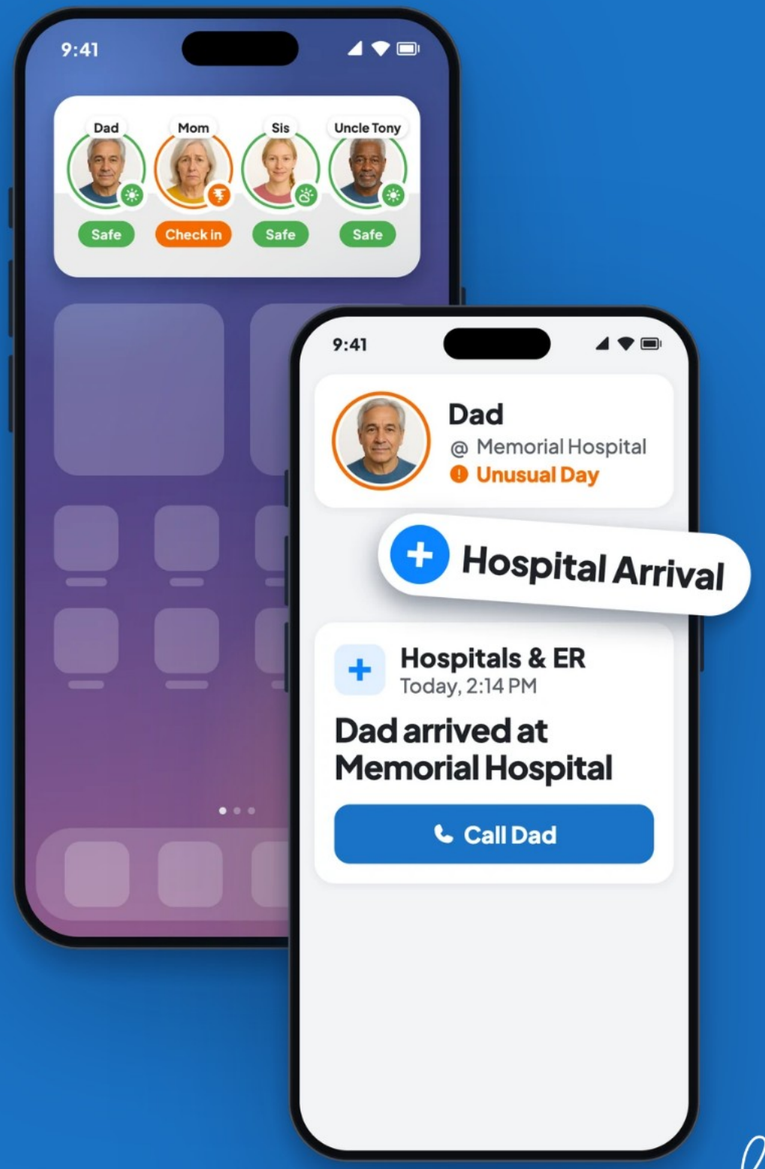

A multi-billion-dollar market today

$3.4B

global family safety app market in 2025, projected to reach $12.6B by 2035 (Strategic Revenue Insights)

Aging tech: a projected $120B market by 2030 (AARP and CTA).

And growing: older adults are projected to outnumber children by 2034 (US Census Bureau).

- Most family safety apps are built around a map, for parents of young kids.
- They answer “Where is she?”
- Looop answers “Is Mom okay today?”

looop

Looop puts it all in one place

Each day, Looop gives one answer about each Loved One: a Typical Day, or an Unusual Day that might be worth a call.

- Learns each Loved One's own normal, and speaks up only when something looks off
- Holistic family care: health, fitness, spending, activity, weather, crime, and the shape of each day
- Alerts instead of a map to watch
- One tap to call, text, or 911
- No ads, and your family's data is never for sale
